(Pakistan) The law enforcement in Pakistan is carried out by joint network of several federal and provincial police agencies. The four provinces and the Islamabad Capital Territory (ICT) each have a civilian police force with jurisdiction extending only to the relevant province or territory.[182] At the federal level, there are a number of civilian intelligence agencies with nationwide jurisdictions including the Federal Investigation Agency (FIA), Intelligence Bureau (IB), and the Motorway Patrol, as well as several paramilitary forces such as the National Guards (Northern Areas), the Rangers (Punjab and Sindh), and the Frontier Corps (Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa and Balochistan). The most senior officers of all the civilian police forces also form part of the Police Service, which is a component of the civil service of Pakistan. Namely, there is four provincial police service including the Punjab Police, Sindh Police, Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa Police, and the Balochistan Police; all headed by the appointed senior Inspector-Generals. The ICT has its own police component, the Capital Police, to maintain law and order in the capital. The CID bureaus are the crime investigation unit and form a vital part in each provincial police service. The law enforcement in Pakistan also has a Motorway Patrol which is responsible for enforcement of traffic and safety laws, security and recovery on Pakistan's inter-provincial motorway network. In each of provincial Police Service, it also maintains a respective Elite Police units led by the NACTA—a counter-terrorism police unit as well as providing VIP escorts. In the Punjab and Sindh, the Pakistan Rangers are an internal security force with the prime objective to provide and maintain security in war zones and areas of conflict as well as maintaining law and order which includes providing assistance to the police.[289] The Frontier Corps serves the similar purpose in Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa, and the Balochistan.[289] Human rights Main articles: Human rights in Pakistan and LGBT rights in Pakistan Male homosexuality is illegal in Pakistan and punishable with up to life in prison.[290][291] In its 2018 Press Freedom Index, Reuters without borders ranked Pakistan number 139 out of 180 countries based on freedom of the press.[292] Television stations and newspapers are routinely shut down for publishing any reports critical of the government or the military.[293][294][295] Military Main article: Pakistan Armed Forces Pakistan Air Force's JF-17 Thunder flying in front of the 8,130-metre-high (26,660-foot) Nanga Parbat The armed forces of Pakistan are the eighth largest in the world in terms of numbers in full-time service, with about 617,000 personnel on active duty and 513,000 reservists, as of tentative estimates in 2010.[296] They came into existence after independence in 1947, and the military establishment has frequently influenced the national politics ever since.[297] Chain of command of the military is kept under the control of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee, all of the branches joint works, co-ordination, military logistics, and joint missions are under the Joint Staff HQ.[297] The Joint Staff HQ is composed of the Air HQ, Navy HQ, and Army GHQ in the vicinity of the Rawalpindi Military District.[298] The Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee is the highest principle staff officer in the armed forces, and the chief military adviser to the civilian government though the chairman has no authority over the three branches of armed forces.[297] The Chairman joint chiefs controls the military from the JS HQ and maintains strategic communications between the military and the civilian government.[297] As of 2018[update], the C-CCS is General Zubair Hayat and acting chief of army staff General Qamar Bajwa. Javed Javed.[299] chief of naval staff Admiral Muhammad Zaka.[300] and chief of air staff Air Chief Marshal Mujahid Anwar Khan.[301] The main branches are the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force. The Army is the largest and most powerful, and is responsible for 92% of the country's military spending.[302] The Army is divided into five commands, and is the largest of the world's armies, with a credible minimum defence.[136] The United States, Turkey, and China maintain close military relations, and regularly export military equipment and technology transfer to Pakistan.[303] Joint logistics and major war games are occasionally carried out by the militaries of China and Turkey.[302][303][305] Philosophical basis for the military draft is introduced by the Constitution in times of emergency, but it has never been imposed.[306] Military history Since 1947 Pakistan has been involved in four conventional wars, the first war occurred in Kashmir with Pakistan gaining control of Western Kashmir, (Azad Kashmir and Gilgit-Balistan, and India retaining Eastern Kashmir (Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh). Territorial problems eventually led to another conventional war in 1965, over the issue of Bengali refugees that led to another war in 1971 which resulted in Pakistan's unconditional surrender in East Pakistan.[307] Tensions in Kargil brought the two countries at the brink of war.[137] Since 1947 the unresolved territorial problems with Afghanistan saw border skirmishes which were kept mostly at the mountainous border. In 1961, the military and intelligence community repelled the Afghan incursion in the Bajaur Agency near the Durand Line border.[308][309] Rising tensions with neighbouring USSR in their involvement in Afghanistan, Pakistani intelligence community, mostly the ISI, systematically coordinated the US resources to the Afghan mujahideen and foreign fighters against the Soviet Union's presence in the region. Military reports indicated that the PAF was in engagement with the Soviet Air Force, supported by the Afghan Air Force during the course of the conflict.[310] One of which belonged to Alexander Rutskyo.[310] Apart from its own conflicts, Pakistan has been an active participant in United Nations peacekeeping missions. It played a major role in rescuing trapped American soldiers from Mogadishu, Somalia, in 1993 in Operation Gothic Serp.[311][312][313] According to UN reports, the Pakistani military is the third largest troop contributor to UN peacekeeping missions after Ethiopia and India.[314] [315] Pakistan has deployed its military in some Arab countries, providing defence, training, and playing advisory roles.[316][317] The PAF and Navy's fighter pilots have voluntarily served in Arab nations' militaries against Israel in the Six-Day War (1967) and in the Yom Kippur War (1973). Pakistan's fighter pilots shot down ten Israeli planes in the Six-Day War.[311] In the 1973 war it was one of the PAF pilots, Flt. Lt. Sattar Alvi (flying a MiG-21), shot down an Israeli Air Force Mirage and was honoured by the Syrian government.[318][319][320] Requested by the Saudi monarchy in 1979. Pakistan's special forces units, operatives, and commands were rushed to assist Saudi forces in Mecca to lead the operation of the Grand Mosque. For almost two weeks Saudi Special Forces and Pakistani commandos fought the insurgents who had occupied the Grand Mosque's compound.[321][322][323] In 1991 Pakistan got involved with the Gulf War and sent 5,000 troops as part of a US-led coalition, specifically for the defence of Saudi Arabia.[324] Despite the UN arms embargo on Bosnia, General Javed Nasir of the ISI airlifted anti-tank weapons and missiles to Bosnian mujahideen which turned the tide in favour of Bosnian Muslims and forced the Serbs to lift the siege. Under Nasir's leadership the ISI was also involved in supporting Chinese Muslims in Xinjiang Province, rebel Muslim groups in the Philippines, and some religious groups in Central Asia.[325][326] Since 2004 the military has been engaged in a war in North-West Pakistan, mainly against the homegrown Taliban factions.[327][328] Major operations undertaken by the army include Operation Black Thunderstorm, Operation Rah-e-Nijat and Operation Zarb-e-Azb.[329][330] According to SIPRI, Pakistan was the 9th largest recipient and importer of arms between 2011–2016.[331] Economy This section needs to be updated. Please update this article to reflect recent events and newly available information. (April 2020) Main articles: Economy of Pakistan and Economic history of Pakistan See also: Pakistan and the International Monetary Fund Economic indicators GDP (PPP) $1.254 trillion (2019) [10] GDP (nominal) $284.2 billion (2019) [332] Real GDP growth 3.29% (2019) [333] CPI inflation 10.3% (2019) [334] Unemployment 5.7% (2018) [335] Labor force participation rate 48.9% (2018) [336] Total public debt $106 billion (2019) National wealth $465 billion (2019) [337] Economy of Pakistan is the 23rd largest in the world in terms of purchasing power parity (PPP), and 42nd largest in terms of nominal gross domestic product. Economists estimate that Pakistan was part of the wealthiest region of the world throughout the first millennium CE, with the largest economy in the world in the 21st century.[34] This advantage was lost in the 18th century as other regions such as China and Western Europe edged forward.[338] Pakistan is considered a developing country.[339][340] and is one of the Next Eleven, a group of eleven countries that, along with the BRICs, have a high potential to become the world's largest economies in the 21st century.[341] In 2013, Pakistan was ranked 134th in the world in terms of human development, with a score of 0.549. The country is considered to be semi-industrialized, with centres of growth along the Indus River.[343][344][345] The diversified economies of Karachi and Punjab's urban centres coexist with less-developed areas in other parts of the country, particularly in Balochistan.[344] According to the Economic complexity Observatory, Pakistan is the 67th-largest export economy in the world and the 106th most complex economy.[346] During the fiscal year 2015–16, Pakistan's exports stood at US$20.81 billion and imports at US$44.76 billion, resulting in a negative trade balance of US$23.96 billion.[347] Statue of a bull outside the Pakistan Stock Exchange, Islamabad, Pakistan As of 2019[update], Pakistan's estimated nominal GDP is US$284.2 billion.[10] The GDP by PPP is US$1.254 trillion.[10] The estimated nominal per capita GDP is US$1,388.[10] the GDP (PPP)capita is US$6,016 (international dollars).[10] According to the World Bank, Pakistan has important strategic endowments and development potential. The increasing proportion of Pakistan's youth provides the country with both a potential demographic dividend and a challenge to provide adequate services and employment.[348] 21.04% of the population live below the international poverty line of US$1.25 a day. The unemployment rate among the aged 15 and over population is 5.5%.[349] Pakistan has an estimated 40 million middle class citizens, projected to increase to 100 million by 2050.[350] A 2015 report published by the World Bank ranked Pakistan's economy at 24th-largest[351] in the world by purchasing power and 41st-largest[352] in absolute terms. It is South Asia's second-largest economy, representing about 15.0% of regional GDP.[353][354] Fiscal Year GDP growth[355] Inflation rate[356] 2013–14 4.05% 8.6% 2014–15 4.06% 4.5% 2015–16 2.1% 16.56% 2.9% 2016–17 5.37% 4.2% 2017–18 5.79% 3.8% Pakistan's economic growth since its inception has been varied. It has been slow during periods of democratic transition, but robust during the three periods of martial law, although the foundation for sustainable and equitable growth was not formed.[116] The early to middle 2000s was a period of rapid economic reforms; the government raised development spending, which reduced poverty levels by 10% and increased GDP by 3%.[182] [357] The economy cooled again from 2007.[182] Inflation reached 25.0% in 2008.[358] and Pakistan had to depend on a fiscal policy backed by the International Monetary Fund to avoid possible bankruptcy.[359][360] A year later, the Asian Development Bank reported that Pakistan's economic crisis was easing.[361] The inflation rate for the fiscal year 2010–11 was 14.1%.[362] Since 2013, as part of an International Monetary Fund program, Pakistan's economic growth has picked up. In 2014 Goldman Sachs predicted that Pakistan's economy would grow 15 times in the next 35 years to become the 18th-largest economy in the world by 2050.[363] In Its 2016 book, The Rise and Fall of Nations, Ruchir Sharma termed Pakistan's economy as at a 'take-off' stage and the future outlook until 2020 has been termed 'Very Good'. Sharma termed it possible to transform Pakistan from a 'low-income to a middle-income country during the next five years'.[364] Share of world GDP (PPP)[365] Year Share 1980 0.54% 1990 0.72% 2000 0.74% 2010 0.79% 2017 0.83% Pakistan is one of the largest producers of natural commodities, and its labour market is the 10th-largest in the world. The 7-million–strong Pakistani diaspora contributed US$19.9 billion to the economy in 2015–16.[366][367] The major source countries of remittances to Pakistan are: the UAE; the United States; Saudi Arabia; the Gulf states (Bahrain, Kuwait, Qatar, Oman); Australia; Canada; Japan; the United Kingdom; Norway; and Switzerland.[368][369] According to the World Trade Organization, Pakistan's share of overall world exports is declining; it contributed only 0.13% in 2007.[370] Agriculture and primary sector Pakistan's surface mining in Sindh. Pakistan has been termed the 'Saudi Arabia of Coal' by Forbes.[371] Main articles: Agriculture in Pakistan, Fuel extraction in Pakistan, and Mining in Pakistan The structure of the Pakistani economy has changed from a mainly agricultural to a strong service base. Agriculture as of 2015[update] accounts for only 20.9% of the GDP.[372] Even so, according to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, Pakistan produced 21,591,400 metric tons of wheat in 2005, more than all of Africa (20,334,585 metric tons) and nearly as much as all of South America (24,557,784 metric tons).[373] Majority of the population, directly or indirectly, is dependent on this sector. It accounts for 43.5% of employed labour force and is the largest source of foreign exchange earnings.[372][374] A large portion of the country's manufactured exports is dependent on raw materials such as cotton and hides that are part of the agriculture sector, while supply shortages and market disruptions in farm products do push up inflationary pressures. The country is also the fifth-largest producer of cotton, with cotton production of 1.5 million metric tons in 2015.
